CARMEN'S UNION SECRETARY SHORT ON HIS ACCOUNTS

Discloses Discrepancies in Books of J. P.
O'Connor Who Has Been Relieved From Office.

PROMISES TO MAKE GOOD ANY SHORTAGE

Investigator Has Been at Work on Accounts Two Weeks—$100,000 a Year
Handled Through Office.

Discrepancies in the accounts of J. P. O'Connor, secretary of the Carmen's Union, have been discovered in an audit being made of his books, and he has been relieved of office pending its completion.
The discrepancies were found only in this year's account, and O'Connor
has already started making restitution, according to officers of the union, whom he promised to make good in his accounts. The union is represented by a $15,000 bond.
Frank O'Shea, international vice president of the union, who relieved O'Connor from office, said the discrepancies would not result in O'Connor's expulsion from the union,
but would disqualify him from holding office of financial responsibility. The secretary of that union handles about $100,000 a year.
O'Connor has been secretary since the union was established here in 1914. He led the organizers who formed the union, and was most active in conducting the successful strike. He is married and lives at 1000 Cottage Hill avenue.

O'Shea said the first intimation that anything was wrong with O'Connor's accounts came when he was late with his audit for the quarter ending Aug. 1. An investigator from Chicago was then sent here,
and he has been at work on the books two weeks.

O'Shea also was ordered here to relieve O'Connor from duty, and the matter was disclosed at the recent monthly meeting of the union's executive board.

O'Connor stated he knew of no discrepancies. He said he would remain here and assist with the audit and had ample means with which to subsidize the union for any shortage.

L. A. Grasser, recording secretary, has taken charge of the secretary's office and will serve until O'Connor's successor has been appointed.

ARIZONA FLOOD REGEDES AFTER WATER DAMAGES STATE CAPITOL

House at Phoenix Filled With Flood Water. Heavy Rain in Phoenix, Ariz., last night. Flood waters in the State Capitol Building are slowly receding today, after reaching a level of two feet in the first floor offices of the Governor and the chief assistants. The damage to the Capitol was estimated at $300,000
by H. M. Alexander, custodian of the building, who said the water was allowed heavy rains.

Two companies of State troops were called out to guard the flooded area. Residents of Northwest-Phoenix were warned by the Sheriff
last evening to move to higher ground.

scribed as "a small cloudburst."

LIFE LOSS IN HOTEL FIRE AT MACON, GA., LIKELY TO TOTAL 12

Two Men Die on Way to Hospital, Two Other Bodies Have Been Found,
and 8 Persons Are Missing.

FRAME STRUCTURE VALUED AT $150,000

Investigation Begun Into Report That Leaking Gas Pipe, Long Neglected, Caused Blaze.

By the Associated Press.
MACON, Ga., Aug. 22.—The death
list in the fire which early today destroyed the Brown House, probably will reach 12.

J. K. Hays of Macon, former Justice of the Peace, died on the way to the Macon Hospital shortly after he leaped from the top of the plant of the Collier Manufacturing Co., adjoining the hotel. He fell head foremost on a pile of iron.

Harry Swansburg of Atlanta, railroad engineer, died at 11 a. m. today. He was with Hays when he crawled from a second story window
to the roof of the manufacturing plant, and leaped soon after he did.
The pictures taken from the second floor of the building, it is believed were of Hays and his roommate, H. A.
Turnipseed, Hampton, Ga., and his roommate, B. A. White, Melford, Ga.

It is believed there are at least eight other bodies in the ruins. Survivors today told of seeing a mother with a baby in her arms frantically screaming for help, but they were unable to reach her, and it is believed both perished in the flames.
The property loss is estimated at $150,000.

It is believed the seven injured
now in the hospital will recover.
Officials are investigating reports that a leaking gas pipe caused the explosion. It was reported that the pipe had been leaking for some time.
Early reports indicated that the fire
followed an explosion in an adjoining building, which smashed in one side of the hotel.

While streams of water still are being poured upon the ruins, the search for bodies is continuing under hazardous conditions. The piles of brick and other debris are intensely hot and soles of shoes and boots are quickly burned away.
Firemen are trying to raise with streams of water walls that appear in danger of falling. But by hit they are giving away, endangering the searching parties.

The Brown House was the oldest hotel in the city and was located close to the center of the business district. The flames from the wood structure, spreading to adjoining buildings, burned practically half of the block.

Owing to the loss of the hotel register, no check on the number of the missing has been made.
Men on the sidewalks saved many women from injury by catching them in their arms.

HOUSE PASSES $1,000,000,000 BILL TO AID FARM EXPORTS

Approves Senate Measure With Amendments, Making Sum Available to War Finance Corporation.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—With a number of amendments the Senate bill which would make $1,000,000,000
available through the War Finance Corporation for stimulating exportation of agricultural products,
was passed today by the House.
Only 21 representatives voted against the bill, while 314 voted for it.

The House eliminated Senate sections authorizing the purchase by the War Finance Corporation of $200,000,000 worth of farm loan bonds and the creation of a new bureau in the Department of Commerce to obtain information as to trade conditions abroad. The House further overruled the action of its committee in eliminating a section which would permit Government loans to accredited foreigner engaged in exportation of American farm products, but added an amendment providing for rigid restriction of such loans.

Another House amendment would fix June 30, 1922, as the date for liquidation of the War Finance Corporation would begin with the capital stock of the corporation cancelled in proportion to the surplus funds turned into the Treasury.

By a vote of 198 to 136, the House rejected a motion to recommit the bill, offered by Representative Wingo, Democrat, of Arkansas, to reinstate the eliminated Senate provisions for purchase of $200,000,000 worth of farm loan bonds and to add an amendment authorizing the War Finance Corporation to make direct loans to agriculturists.

SECRET SESSIONS TO DRAFT IRISH REPLY ARE BEGUN

Conferences of Leaders Last Week Believed to Have Laid Ground for Early Answer to British.

IMPORTANCE SEEN IN BOLAND'S ARRIVAL

Sinn Fein Expected to Ask Lloyd George for Further Details of Dominion Plan
He Offers.

By the Associated Press.
DUBLIN, Aug. 22.—Secret sessions of the Irish Republican Parliament to draft the Sinn Fein reply to Great Britain's peace proposals began here today. The public meetings last week and subsequent conferences between Eamonn de Valera and his colleagues were believed to have laid the ground for an early reply.

The presence of Harry J. Boland, who represented De Valera in the United States after the Sinn Fein
chieftain had returned to Ireland, was considered important, as it was believed he would submit to the Parliament a report outlining the state of public opinion on the other side of the Atlantic. It had been understood since the initial meeting of the Parliament that a decision might be delayed until Boland reached the city, and his arrival yesterday was looked upon as significant.

Discussions in Parliament.
There have been indications that a certain amount of discussion existed in the ranks of the Sinn Fein Parliament over the attitude to be taken toward the British offer of dominion status for Ireland, and it appeared probable today that many members would speak on the subject before final decision was reached.

Press comments by Dublin newspapers would seem to reflect a desire on the part of the Sinn Fein to reject the British offer, but rather to obtain from Prime Minister Lloyd George a statement giving details of the Government's offer. Objections have been made that Ireland, because of her geographical position, would not be given the same sort of dominion government that is enjoyed by Canada
or Australia, and it has been held that the Prime Minister should define his exact position in this respect.
Organs of the Unionists have been urging acceptance of the Government's proposals, or at least the submission of them to a plebiscite in Southern Ireland.

Ulster Unrelenting.

The attitude of Ulster up until today had apparently been unrelenting in its making common cause with the Sinn Fein in attempting to reach a settlement with Great Britain was concerned. It seemed the decision of Sir James Craig to stand aloof during negotiations between Dublin and London had not been reconsidered.

The week end passed quietly in this city, but it was marred in Belfast by the explosion of a bomb.
Long before 11 o'clock, when the Parliament was to meet, crowds gathered outside the Mansion House
to cheer the republican leaders, particularly Boland and Miss Mary MacSwiney, both of whom arrived from the United States yesterday.

Comment of Newspapers.
The Freeman's Journal, which is sympathetic with the Sinn Fein, but under the new ownership of Martin Fitzgerald, represents large business interests in Dublin, thus far has refrained from commenting on the terms, devoting itself to reiterating its request that Lloyd George let the public know whether he approves the description of the British offer furnished by Gen. Smuts in his letter to De Valera.

The Irish Times, the Unionist organ, is pleading with the Sinn Fein to accept the British Government's offer, or at least submit it to a plebiscite, while the leaders of the Dominion League, such as Sir Horace Plunkett, and the clericals, have remained silent. It is not believed in political quarters here, however, that they will much longer keep out of the picture.

The publicity department of the Daily Eireann yesterday issued a reply to the recent statement of Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary
for Ireland, concerning kidnapping and missing Crown forces. The reply objects to the word "kidnaped"
in a case where it says war had been officially declared to exist.

The statement says that since January, 1920, 850 officers and men captured by the Irish Republican army were disarmed and released unharm. It declares that the British practice has been to treat prisoners of war as criminals, and to inflict upon them penalties of death or imprisonment. Against the British list of 56 Crown forces missing, figures were given.

FORCE OF MARINES GOES TO PANAMA, FOLLOWING NOTE

Hughes Has Informed Panama U. S. Does Not See Where Costa Rica Can Be Asked to Delay Longer.

DISPUTE OVER BOUNDARY AWARD

Third Battalion of Fifth Regiment on Way to Canal Zone on the Battleship Pennsylvania.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The United States has informed the Government of Panama that as formally mediator between Panama and Costa Rica in their boundary dispute, it does not "feel compelled to suggest"
that Costa Rica delay longer in taking jurisdiction over territory now held by Panama, and which was adjudged to belong to Costa Rica by the terms of the White award.

The position of this Government was stated in a note transmitted by Secretary Hughes to the Government of Panama on Aug. 18, and made public yesterday by the State Department.

The Marines, drawn from the Canal Zone, had been ordered to Costa Rica, the note said, of its determination to assume immediate jurisdiction over the disputed territory.
The Government of Panama, it was stated, had refused to accept the award, and the United States, in publication of the note, it became known that a force of marines had been embarked at Philadelphia for the Canal Zone. Officials here whose positions made them cognizant of the movement refused to divulge its purpose or to comment except for the statement that it was ordered at the solicitation of the State Department.
The Marines, drawn from the Quantico (Va.) base, comprised the Third Battalion of the Fifth Regiment and are commanded by Maj.
Thomas S. Clark. Moving by train
Saturday night, they embarked at Philadelphia yesterday, according to marine headquarters, on the battleship Pennsylvania, which is to convey them to the Canal Zone. The Pennsylvania has been under orders
for a fortnight to proceed to the west coast to take her place in the reorganized Pacific fleet, naval officials said.

Unofficially it was said in naval circles that no plans had been made looking to the employment of American forces in the territory delimitated
by the White award.

LONDON OBSERVER SAYS DEFECTS HAVE DELAYED FLIGHT OF ZR-2

Paper Declares That Unless Weather Permits Trip Soon, Craft May Have to Wait a Year.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 22.—Unless the driftless ZR-2 sails for the United States during the next three or four weeks, she probably will have to wait until next year because of weather conditions, according to the Observer, which asserts that defects in the dirigible, which had been kept secret
for four or five weeks, are no longer a secret.

During the first trials of the ZR-2,
the newspaper says, a tendency of the great balloon to "hump" developed, and an inspection revealed that certain girders had bent and that interior work had buckled under the strain. Remedial measures were taken, including considerable reinforcement of the framework along much of the airship's 695 feet of length.
This involved additional weight, the newspaper states, and a slight decrease in the load the dirigible can lift.

In addition to this structural trouble, the Observer declares the ZR-2
has been handicapped by engine trouble, but it adds that the element of weather is the one which is causing the present delay in the final tests.

CASKET REQUIRES 16 BEARERS

Adam Fries, Weighing 410 Pounds,
Buried in Coffin Scaling 250.

Adam Fries, former Deputy County
Clerk of Belleville, who weighed 410 pounds, and died Friday at his home in Pensacola, near Belleville, was buried yesterday in a specially built casket, 31 inches wide by the inside and weighing 250 pounds.
The total weight of 460 pounds required 16 active pallbearers, and it could not be taken out through the door. A window frame was removed and the casket was hoisted out. On the way to the hearse one of the handles broke from the casket
and a seventeenth man was pressed into service. Fries was 52 years old and was 5 feet 6 inches tall.

FARM HAND AND SON HELD IN MURDER OF WOMAN FOUND BURIED

Secretary Hughes' Note to Panama
on Costa Rica Boundary Dispute
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.

By the Associated Press.
FOLLOWING is the text of Secretary Hughes' note of Aug. 6 to Panama, given out here yesterday:
The Government of the United States has received the note addressed by the Government of Panama on Aug. 6.
After the most careful consideration of the statements contained in the note of the Government of Panama above referred to,
this Government has reached the conclusion that arguments advanced in this communication have already been fully answered in previous notes. It is greatly regretted that it has proved to be impossible for the Governments of Panama and Costa Rica to come to a direct agreement for the delimitation of that portion of the boundary between the two republics
laid down by the White award.
In view of the fact that the Government of Panama appears unwilling to carry out this delimitation in the manner provided in the Porras-Anderson convention, and inasmuch as a reasonable time,
mentioned in the note of this Government dated May 2, 1921, for the reaching of an agreement as to the manner of carrying out this delimitation, has already been afforded, there would seem to be no reason why the Government of the United States should, as the friendly mediator between the two Governments, or by virtue of its special relations to the Government of Panama, feel compelled to suggest to the Government of Costa Rica that it delay longer taking jurisdiction over the territory
which was adjudged to belong to Costa Rica by the terms of the Louber award.
The Government of the United States is now advised by the Government of Costa Rica that since it considers that the Porras-Anderson convention is in force, and since it believes that there is no
valid reason for delaying its complete execution any longer, it is ready to assume immediately the

PLAN TO CUT COST OF APARTMENT BUILDING LAW UNCONSTITUTIONAL

City Officials Discuss Reducing Requirements as to Concrete Reinforcements.

A plan for reducing the cost of apartment buildings, and thus stimulating construction, by lessening
the requirement as to concrete reinforcement for the steel girders,
was discussed today by Director Mc-Kelvey of the Department of Public Safety with Mayor Kiel. Both were inclined to favor the plan, which, McKelvey declared, is in line with the practice of New York, Cleveland and Detroit.

The present building code requires that, for buildings of more than four stories, the steel girders
shall be reinforced with eight inches of concrete. It is proposed to reduce this to two inches, or to eliminate the requirement for concrete.
This, it is estimated, would save 25 per cent of the cost of concrete work
in building.

The Mayor said he believed this change would be feasible as to apartment houses, though he said he would not favor it for warehouses. "Something ought to be done to lower the cost of construction," the Mayor said. "The dealers are keeping up the prices of sand, gravel and cement."

McKelvey said he would make inquiries, and possibly tests, to determine whether steel girders without concrete, would be subject to any serious defect from corrosion. In any change to be made in the building code, it will be specified that the buildings are "first-class" buildings, as buildings of this class get the lowest insurance rates.

GOMPERS SAYS HARDING FAVORS VOICE FOR LABOR IN CONFERENCE

By the Associated Press.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 22.
President Harding looks with favor
on labor's request for representation in the disarmament conference to be held in Washington, Samuel Gompers said today at the opening of the meeting of the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor, and he stated that as president of the federation, he had been communicating with organized labor bodies of other nations, with a view to getting the attitude on representation in the disarmament discussion.

Gompers added that he had received a letter of appreciation from President Harding after visiting the White House and suggesting that American labor be permitted representation in the conference.
"Labor has always been an advocate of disarmament," Gompers said,
and the full force of organized labor of America today backs President Harding in his move to bring about world peace through disarmament.

Wage reductions, unemployment and tariff legislation were also considered by the council today. It was planned to make a protest against the tariff law.

Body Found in Grave in Wheat Field Near Granite
City May Be That of Mrs.
Nora Dorman Who Disappeared Night of June 8.

PAIR ARRESTED AT JUNCTION, ILL.

Neighbors Repeat Stories of Prisoner and Tell of Departure When Body First Identified as Mrs. Gilliland's, Was Found.

With the arrest of Arthur Dor-man, 38 years old, a farm hand, and his son, John Dorman, 16, at Junction, Ill., 135 miles southeast of St.
Louis, at 1 a. m. today, Chief of Police Roy Clark of Granite City announced that the mystery surrounding the murder of the woman whose body was found June 16
buried in a shallow grave in a wheat field near Granite City, had been solved. Dorman and his son were arrested on warrants charging them with murder.

Chief Clark said that he had established conclusive proof that the body was that of Mrs. Nora Dorman, 35, wife of Arthur Dorman, and that John Dorman had informed him,
after two hours of questioning, that his father had told him of the murder and had sworn him to secrecy.

Admits Wife Is Missing.
Arthur Dorman told Chief Clark that the woman, whose body was found, answered the description of his wife, even to scars and dental work, as well as clothing, but declared that if his wife was dead he had no knowledge of the fact. He said that his wife had eloped to Denver, Colo., with a taxicab chauffeur.

As has been told, the body previously had been identified as that of Mrs. Serena Gilliland, 39 years old, of East St. Louis, and her husband, Thomas L. Gilliland, was arrested and accused of her murder. He was released from police headquarters in Granite City last Saturday after his wife had been found alive in Cincinnati.

The Dorman family formerly lived in a rooming house at 1501 D street, Granite City, about a mile from where the body was found. Mrs.
Dorman, who had been employed as a waitress in Granite City, disappeared the night of June 8, and her husband confessed to friends that he feared she had run away with an admirer.

Chief Clark said today that following the disappearance of Mrs. Dor-man he had ascertained the following facts:
Asks for Wife's Wages.
On June 9, Dorman went to the Gollas-Nick restaurant in Granite City, where his wife had been employed, and asked for $13 that was due her in wages. He told the manager of the restaurant that his wife had gone away for a few days. He was told that he would have to have her order for the money. Several days later he returned and again
asked for the money, saying that his wife had gone to Denver and had written to him that she was not coming back to Granite City.

Dorman was informed that he would have to place his claim in the hands of a magistrate and get a judicial order for the $13. He applied to Magistrate Charles G. Howell, but the latter refused to issue the order.
Leaves Ring as Security.
On June 12, Chief Clark's investigation disclosed, Dorman, accompanied by his three children, John, Glenn, 13, and Hazel, 11, appeared at the home of Carl T. Waller, 711 Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis, and asked for lodging. He was extremely nervous. Waller told Chief Clark, and said that he had just met with financial reverses and had been forced to move from Murphyboro,
Ill. He said that his wife had left him and that the only asset he had

WOMAN ELECTS TO KEEP HUSBAND AND ADMIRER KILLS HER

California Wife Forced by Man to Make Choice While He Points Shotgun at Her.

TRAGEDY AT AUTO AFTER LONG RIDE

Husband Says Accused Man Had Held Knife at His Back During Trip; Posse Finds Assassin Dying.

By the Associated Press.
PORTERVILLE, Cal., Aug. 22.—Mrs. J. B. Bachman, forced to choose between her husband and another man in the presence of both, elected to remain true to her marriage, and then sealed her death, which came an instant later when the other man, Walter H. Alexander, is charged, shot and killed her yesterday.

"Well, what are you going to do?" Alexander is quoted as demanding of Mrs. Bachman.

"I guess I'll stay here," Bachman says his wife replied.

Thereupon, Bachman says, Alexander fired a shotgun at the woman. The charge struck her in the back and she fell dead.

The shooting took place at the ranch home of H. B. Collins, stepfather of Alexander, near here.

Alexander Found Dying.

After the shooting Alexander went away, it is said, carrying his shotgun. He was found dying on a ranch 10 miles from here by a posse early today. Alexander died before aid could be administered and Sheriff Court Smith, leader of the posse, believes Alexander poisoned himself.

Bachman told City Marshal Isham his story of the shooting and events immediately preceding.

Mrs. Bachman had been visiting at Lindsay. There also had been Alexander, and Bachman went from his home yesterday to return his wife to her home. Alexander said he would accompany the Bachmans in their automobile. Bachman drove, and in the face of which with him was his wife, Alexander sat in the rear.

Knife Held at Back.

Alexander, according to Bachman's story, for the entire distance from Lindsay to Porterville and the eight miles beyond to the Collins place, held a knife at Bachman's back to compel the husband to obey any orders the other man might give.

At the Collins place Alexander got out, Bachman says, and cut the ignition wires of the car. Bachman, Alexander is reported as going into his home and returning with the shotgun.

Advancing upon Mrs. Bachman, the husband said, Alexander demanded to know what the woman was going to do. She answered and was shot and killed.

Collins said Alexander remained about the place about a half hour and then went away with his shotgun through the fields.

NEGRO'S HOMEMADE AIRPLANE HAS WHIZ-Z OF A PROPELLER

Air Churner Flies Off the Handle, Turns Hole in House and Crawls Into Flyer-Plane.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Officials of the army air service are taking a keen interest in the doings of one George Fisher, who claims to be the only living negro aviator, and who has based forth into the aeronautical world with a home-made airplane intended to startle and dazzle the natives around New Orleans with his prowess as a pilot.

From all accounts, George is armed with two left hand feet of rabbits killed in the light of the moon in a country graveyard and to have a slicked-up time among his spending changes.

In his first trial flight, the propeller flew off his machine, tearing a hole through a house and taking refuge in a player-piano. Undeterred by this trifling incident, George has announced his determination to make his flivver fly "again."

If he has made a second attempt, that fact has not yet been heralded abroad. Meanwhile air service folks expect to hear any day that the rabbits' feet have played George false and that an irate tenant has demanded that he "dig up" for house repairs and a new player-piano.

REACTION AGAINST DRY LAW IN CONGRESS SHOWN BY STAND ON BEER AMENDMENT

Defiance of Anti-Saloon League for First Time Due to Extremes Which Advocates Have Gone to Trying to Enforce It.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The reaction against prohibition—or rather the extremes to which its advocates have gone in attempting to enforce their ideas—has come at last. Congress stands today divided as it never has been before on the issue of whether a man's home is protected by the Constitution of the United States against search without a legal warrant.

Those who have been standing on the sidelines and predicting that sooner or later public sentiment would react against the extreme prohibitionists are saying that the issue has been decided. For the first time in years members of Congress who have voted "dry" every time the Anti-Saloon League put its approval or disapproval on a liquor measure are standing with the liberal element as against the Anti-Saloon League's proposals.

Up to now there has been no refuge for the man in Congress who felt that the prohibitionists were going too far. He has had to vote dry or be branded a "wet." But the search and seizure controversy has changed the whole character of the controversy. The question now is not whether liquor shall be manufactured and sold. The Federal Constitution prohibits that and gives Congress the right to fix the amount of alcohol in beverages. But the reaction is against the severity of the Volstead act which deals with the enforcement of the Constitution.

The Stanley Amendment.

Shall a man's own home, his automobile, his suit case, his hotel room be searched without a warrant? Shall a warrant be issued unless there is sworn proof that the individual is actually engaged in the sale of liquor? If the Stanley amendment, which was passed unanimously by the Senate, goes through finally, prohibition officers will have to present proof before they can get a warrant from a judge. The prohibition advocates say this will dampen the enthusiasm of enforcement officers and give bootleggers a free hand. The other side insists that the Constitution protects a citizen against search without warrant and that the enthusiasm of enforcement officers and give bootleggers a free hand.

The vigorous fight put up by the Anti-Saloon League against the Stanley amendment is proof indeed of the seriousness with which the proposal is regarded. Some have gone so far as to say it would make the Volstead act almost impossible of enforcement so far as individuals are concerned. Others on the opposite side say that it would be a good thing for they claim the people of America only intended in the first place to abolish the saloon and distillery and didn't intend to interfere with home brewing or other personal liberties in conveying one's household goods from place to place.

Reaction in Sentiment.

There has always been a good deal of political embarrassment about the prohibition question. Many men who are liberal at heart have voted "wet" have themselves been teetotalers. The Anti-Saloon League, by splendid organization, has managed to crack the whip over Congress by taking advantage of public sentiment against the saloon and other abuses. That same strength enabled the league to win the first attempt to put through the Volstead enforcement act.

But the reaction in sentiment which has developed since that law was put upon the statute books has encouraged the liberals and brought converts to their ranks. Some members of Congress think some day public sentiment will permit Congress to legislate for 2.75 per cent beer and light wines, but not very soon. Nevertheless, the present fight over the right of a prohibition officer to search without a warrant has opened the eyes of everybody to the change in sentiment and both sides are now ready to meet on a new basis.

The Senate is standing like a rock against the compromise offered by the Stanley amendment. It's the first time the Senate has defied that organization. Drys joined with wets in framing the Stanley amendment. This would never occur if the Senate felt that public sentiment was the same today as when the Volstead act was pushed through both houses. Usually the Anti-Saloon League gets its legislation through in a hurry and without difficulty. The emergence of search and seizure controversy is the most significant thing that has happened since the nation went dry. The Anti-Saloon League leaders are threatening to carry their fight to the political campaign of 1922. They say that as long as it is one section of the Constitution against the other, the chances are remote that either convention will care to go on record against search and seizure without warrant.

MRS. OBENCHAIN AND BIRCH TO PLEAD NEXT WEEK

Given Another Continuance Because of Delay of New Counsel in Arriving From Arizona.

ACCUSED OF KILLING LOS ANGELES BROKER

Belief Husband Is Innocent Expressed by Mrs. Burch, Who Is Suing Him for Divorce in Kansas.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 22.—Mrs. Madeline Obenchain and Arthur C. Burch, jointly indicted for murder in connection with the slaying here Aug. 5 of J. Belton Kennedy, broker, and reputed fiance of the young woman, today were given a week's continuance in entering their pleas.

The two were arraigned last Monday and given until today to enter pleas, but owing to the inability of Paul W. Schenck of Los Angeles, recently engaged as counsel, to conclude a trial in Arizona, a further delay was desired by the attorney now representing the two prisoners.

Ralph R. Obenchain of Chicago, former husband of the indicted woman, will represent Mrs. Obenchain in court, and Richard Kittle, partner of Schenck, is scheduled to appear for Burch.

Although it is understood an attempt will be made by the defense to have Mrs. Obenchain and Burch admitted to bail, lawyers forecast failure for such a movement.

The defense counsel also is considering the matter of asking for a dismissal of the indictment. Kittle said he believed the defense is able to present a complete alibi for Burch for the night of Aug. 5, when Kennedy was shot, and that there is no evidence upon which Mrs. Obenchain can be held for murder.

Wife Expresses Belief Husband Is Innocent of Murder Charge.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—From Allie Quayle Burch, wife of Arthur Burch, jointly accused in Los Angeles with Mrs. Madeline Obenchain of the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, today came a message expressing her faith in her husband's innocence.

Mrs. Burch, who is suing her husband in Kansas for divorce, addressed her message to William A. Burch of Evanston, Ill., mother of the accused, and the message was forwarded to Burch, held in jail at Los Angeles. "My heart aches for Arthur and I want to tell him in his hour of need," her message said.

"He is a good, kind-hearted soul, and murder could never enter into his heart," the letter continued. "He told me he had killed Kennedy, but as long as I know that he is innocent. The truth shall make him free."

The chauffeur informed the chief that Mrs. Dorman had made him a box of material similar to the dress worn by the woman whose body was found in the wheat field. LAWYER AIDING HIS FORMER WIFE IN MURDER TRIAL

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 22.—Mrs. Arthur Hamilton again has failed in an attempt to swim the English Channel. She reports having left Cape Gris Nez on the French side of the channel, near Calais, at 11 o'clock Saturday morning and to have got within three miles of Deal, on the English side, Sunday morning, where she was compelled to abandon the swim. She says she was in the water 20 hours.

Mrs. Hamilton yesterday expressed satisfaction at having accomplished what she claims to be a world's record for women swimmers, both as regards distance covered and time in the water.

Mrs. Hamilton started last September from St. Margaret's Bay, on the English shore, in an endeavor to swim to Cape Gris Nez, was in the water at that time for 12 hours and reported that she got to within 12 miles of her objective. Sixteen years ago Annette Kellerman twice started on what was declared to have been an attempt to swim the 21 miles across the channel. In the first attempt she was said to have swum for five hours and in the second to have covered six miles.

In each instance she was forced to quit through seasickness.

Capt. Matthew Webb and T. W. Burgess are the only persons on record as having accomplished the task of swimming the channel.

Webb swam across in 1875 in 21 hours and 45 minutes, and Burgess in 1911 in 22 hours and 35 minutes.

Another One Remodeled—Total Capacity of the Three Structures Is 2650 Pupils.

Two new public school buildings, the William Stix and the Roe, and one remodeled old building not recently in use, the Peabody, will be opened at the beginning of the school year, Sept. 6. Their total capacity is 2650 pupils.

The Stix school at Euclid and Duncan avenues, has 19 rooms and will accommodate 950 pupils. The Roe, at Mitchell and Prather avenues, has 13 rooms, with a capacity of 650.

The Peabody, at Eighteenth and Carroll streets, has not been in use as a school building for 10 years, but has been used by the Board of Education for museum purposes. Because of the crowding of the Clinton and Franz Sijel schools, it was decided to place the Peabody building in use again. It will accommodate 1050 children.

The additional buildings will care for not much more than the expected normal increase in school attendance, and the Board of Education anticipate that it will have to use most of the 115 portable school buildings which were in use last year. The total enrollment for the school year ending last June was 108,222, and for the previous year, 106,136.

The board does not intend to launch an extensive building program until building costs are reduced.

WATCHMAN DIES. FROM THE EFFECTS OF BLOW ON HEAD

Andrew Heuther, Attacked
From Behind While on Duty at Monsanto Plant, Expires at Hospital.

SECTION OF GASPIPE FOUND BESIDE HIM

Negro Seen Hurriedly Leaving Scene, but Victim's Watch and Flashlight Are Not Disturbed.

Andrew Heuther, 64 years old, of 1914 Cherokee street, a licensed private watchman who died at the city hospital at 12:30 p. m. yesterday of a skull fracture, is believed to have been murdered by someone who struck him on the head with a piece of gaspipe while he was on duty as a watchman at the Monsanto Chemical Co. plant, 1800 Second street, Sunday.

The piece of pipe was lying beside him when he was found unconscious in an arroyo between two of the factory buildings. His revolver had been stolen. A negro was seen walking hurriedly away from the factory a short time before the watchman was found unconscious.

Frederick Saunders, inside watchman at the factory, early Sunday, was called on the telephone by a burglar alarm agency and was asked if he knew why Heuther had not made his regular half-hourly call at midnight. Saunders telephoned the South street police station and policemen sent to investigate found Heuther in the passageway. There were two abrasions on his scalp.

His revolver holster was empty, but his watch was in his pocket. This caused the police to believe that the theft of the revolver may have been the only motive for the attack. In his right hand Heuther clutched an electric flash lamp which was still lit.

Saw Negro Departing.
John McDaniel, 3212 Laclede avenue, private watchman for the Lohmann Lumber Co., told police that shortly after midnight he saw a negro walking rapidly from the direction of the Monsanto plant. The negro looked back several times as though he feared pursuit.

He got into the house by opening a lock with a nail.

A verdict of homicide was returned over Heuther today at the inquest over Heuther today.

COURT IS ASKED TO CONSTRUCT AGREEMENT OVER PROPERTY

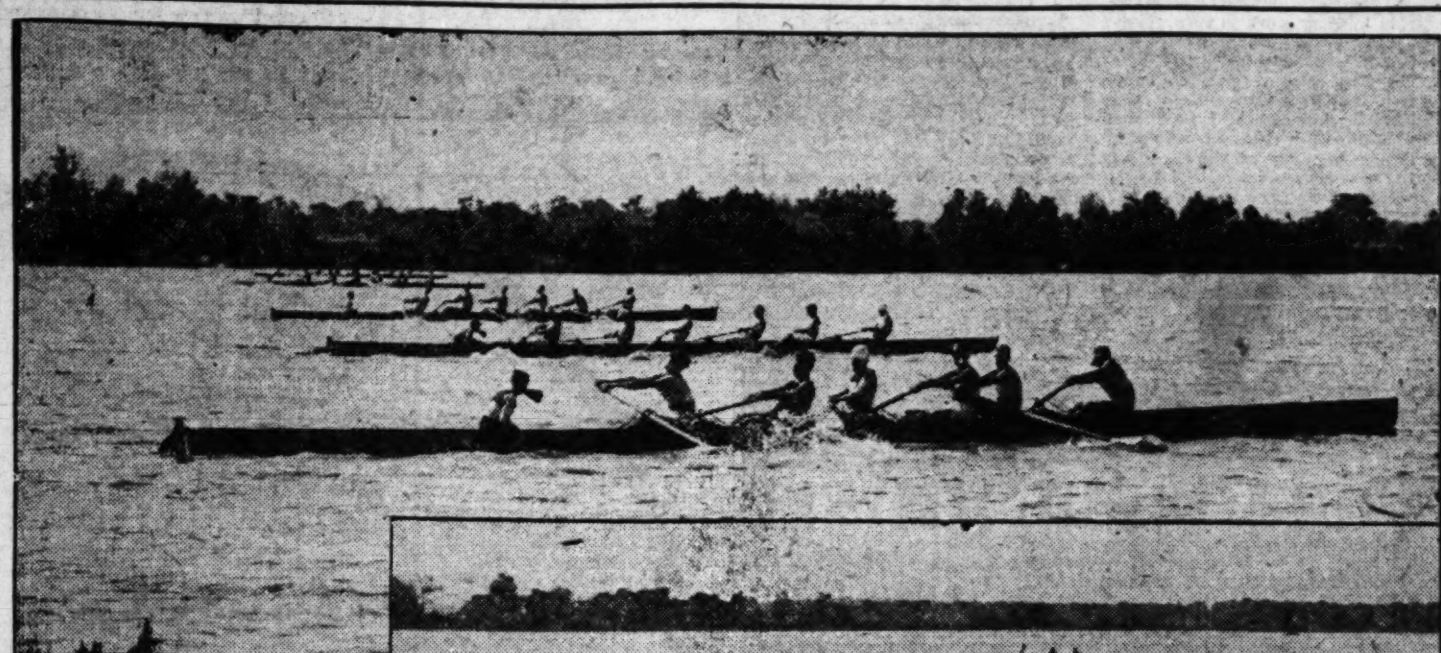

The St. Louis Union Trust Co. filed today an application to have the Circuit Court construe an agreement which it executed in 1893 with Dr. William Preston Hill, of 4541 Gibson avenue, and his wife, Mrs. Winifred Hill, regarding property at 4530 Easton avenue.

By the terms of the agreement the income of the property is to go to Mrs. Hill, and the property after her death is to go to her three children—Rowland and Walter Hill and Mrs. W. H. Buttenhoff. When the agreement was made the only building on the lot was an old residence. In 1913 Hill built a store and apartment building, which has increased the income of the premises fourfold.

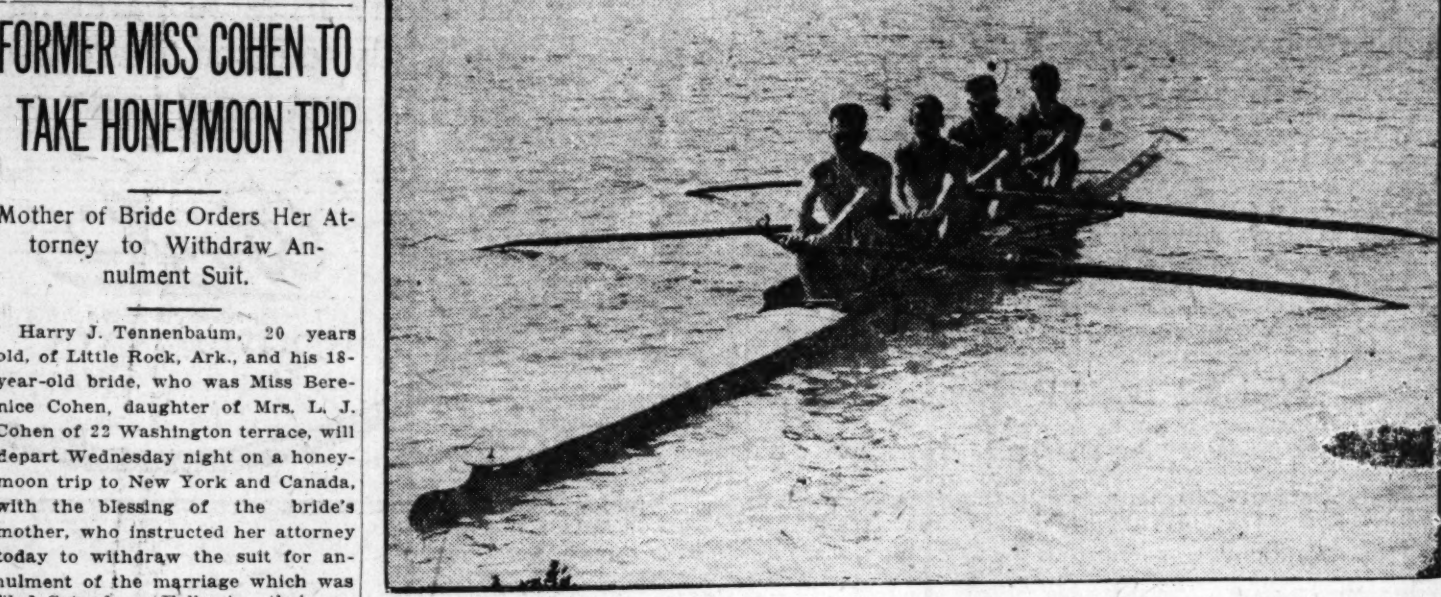

For this improvement, the trust company says, $4900 is owing to Dr. Hill, and he is asking that it be paid from the principal, which the company hesitates to do without definite authorization by the court.

Dr. Hill's former wife and two of the children, Rowland Hill and Mrs. Buttenhoff, seeking to enjoin them against making public a letter which was said to contain statements which was said to be the basis for a libel proceeding. Judge Ferriss declined to issue an injunction.

Mother of Bride Orders Her Attorney to Withdraw Announcement Suit.

Harry J. Tennenbaum, 20 years old, of Little Rock, Ark., and his 18-year-old bride, who was Miss Berenice Cohen, daughter of Mrs. L. J. Cohen of 22 Washington terrace, will depart Wednesday night on a honeymoon trip to New York and Canada, with the blessing of the bride's mother, who instructed her attorney today to withdraw the suit for annulment of the marriage which was filed Saturday. Following their return to St. Louis, they will go to Little Rock, where their home will be.

Mrs. Cohen said today she wanted to understand that her reason for at first wanting the marriage annulled was not objection to Tennenbaum as a son-in-law, but on account of the youth of both and the impression that her daughter's act was due to a temporary infatuation. When she became convinced that her daughter really loved the young man, she withdrew her opposition.

Fathers Business Acquaintances.
Although Tennenbaum's father, Abraham Tennenbaum, and Miss Cohen's father had been business acquaintances for years and the families were friends, Miss Cohen and young Tennenbaum had never met until she went to Little Rock about the middle of June for a visit. It was after only three weeks' acquaintance that she consented to a secret marriage. The plan was to announce it after a year.

After the ceremony July 5, the bride returned home. Tennenbaum made several trips to St. Louis and called on her. Once he took her and her mother to dinner and jocularly asked Mrs. Cohen how he would do as a son-in-law. She said she did not think she could do better.

Woman Told of Wedding.
A week ago Saturday a woman called up Mrs. Cohen and said Berenice was married and hung up without giving her name. When her daughter came home, Mrs. Cohen asked her and she said she was married. Mrs. Cohen became ill. In her distress the daughter made extravagant expressions of regret and Mrs. Cohen received the impression that she was sorry that she had married. Under the impression she caused the suit to be instituted. When she discovered that her daughter was in earnest she decided that the suit was unnecessary.

The St. Louis Union Trust Co. filed today an application to have the Circuit Court construe an agreement which it executed in 1893 with Dr. William Preston Hill, of 4541 Gibson avenue, and his wife, Mrs. Winifred Hill, regarding property at 4530 Easton avenue.

By the terms of the agreement the income of the property is to go to Mrs. Hill, and the property after her death is to go to her three children—Rowland and Walter Hill and Mrs. W. H. Buttenhoff. When the agreement was made the only building on the lot was an old residence. In 1913 Hill built a store and apartment building, which has increased the income of the premises fourfold.

For this improvement, the trust company says, $4900 is owing to Dr. Hill, and he is asking that it be paid from the principal, which the company hesitates to do without definite authorization by the court.

LECTURE BY MILLER STARTS LIQUOR "DRIVE"

Police Make 33 Arrests Yesterday
Following Saturday's Notice
by President of Board.

Following the lecture given Saturday by President Miller of the Police Board to 130 precinct Sergeants, in which he told them that the police would have to enforce the prohibition law whether they liked it or not, patrolmen yesterday and today arrested 32 men and a woman and confiscated a lot of "home brew" and whisky.

Ten men were arrested in a club at 315 Walnut street, where 100 bottles of beer on ice were found. Seven men in an automobile in which two bottles of whisky were discovered were arrested in front of 711 Market street. James Hade of 2407 North Twenty-third street, owner of the car, said he knew nothing about the ownership of the whisky.

Whisky Found in Safe.
Police found two bottles of whisky in a safe in the saloon at 7 South Broadway and arrested the bartender, Thomas Winfield, 46 years old, of 601 South Broadway. Walter Piskl, owner of a saloon at 1110 North Thirtieth street, was arrested when an agent of the police reported that he had purchased from Piskl a drink of whisky for 25 cents. A marked dollar bill which had been given to the agent by the police was found in Piskl's cash drawer.

August Hindborg, a confectioner at 1209 Wash street, was arrested after a police informant reported that he had purchased a small bottle of whisky from Mrs. Hindborg for 75 cents. No whisky was found in the confectionery when the policemen arrived there a few minutes after the alleged sale.

James Granich, proprietor of a saloon at 2036 Wash street, was arrested when a policeman saw him serve a drink in whisky glass to a customer. Granich tried to throw away a bottle containing supposed whisky when the policeman entered. The bottle and contents was taken as evidence.

Man With Bottle Arrested.

George Wallace, 27, who gave his address as Thirtieth and Pine streets, was arrested at High street and Franklin avenue when a policeman searched him and found a quart bottle containing what was believed to be whisky.

Police found a sixth man, apparently asleep. They also reported finding two half-gallon bottles containing whisky under the stairway leading from the cellar to the saloon. After finding the whisky the police visited Smith's home at 6308 South Broadway and arrested him there. The raid on the place was made when the police were informed a dice game was in progress.

Liquor Found in Home.

Charles Beckmann, 38, of 311 Fillmore street, a stone mason, was arrested in his home at 1 p. m. by Capt. Tierney, who reported finding a gallon glass jar filled with whisky in a closet in the bedroom and a pint bottle of the same liquor in a sink in the kitchen. The police say an anti-administration man and the communication was a political farce.

Man Reports a Holdup at Jefferson Avenue and Chouteau.

Lawrence Headway of Wood River, Ill., reported to the police he had been held up by four men, one of whom carried a "billy," at Jefferson and Chouteau avenues, at 9:45 o'clock last night and robbed of $30.

James A. Ellis, of 4271 Washington boulevard, was putting his automobile away in a garage in the rear of 4241 Washington boulevard at 9:15 p. m. when two men held him up and took 70 cents, he reported. After robbing him they made him walk west in the alley and told him not to turn around. They ran east and escaped.

GOLDMAN'S BODY ON WAY HOME

The body of Lieut. Jerome L. Goldman of St. Louis, who was killed in September, 1918, at Belleau Wood, where, with the Fifth Marines, he was attempting to silence a German machine gun nest, will arrive in Hoboken this week.

Arrangements are being made to hold the funeral services in St. Louis at Moulah Temple, where the body will lie for 24 hours after arrival in St. Louis. A large military funeral is planned by the Goldman-Grosky Post of the American Legion, which was named for Lieut. Goldman. Many other American Legion posts will participate. Several other organizations to which Goldman belonged, will take part, among them are the Masonic Order, Elks and Knights of Pythias. Those desiring to attend the funeral in uniform are asked to communicate with A. Bierman, 1014 North Thirtieth street, adjutant of the Goldman-Grosky post.

WOMAN DRIVING TAXI AT AN EARLY HOUR ARRESTED BY POLICE

Chauffeur Arrives on Scene and
Played on Him.

Sergeant of the Laclede Avenue Police Station was standing at Grand avenue and Olive street at 1:30 a. m. today when a taxicab went west at about 40 miles an hour, with a woman at the wheel. A moment later another taxicab drew up and the driver, who had seen the first go by, said the company had no woman drivers and there must be something wrong. The Sergeant and patrolmen got in and were speeded to Sarah street without seeing the woman-taxi driver. They were standing there debating which way to go when the woman in the car approached from the west. They blocked the way and stopped her.

She said a woman named Meyer, 23 years old, a waitress, of 3223 Olive street. The Sergeant asked her where she got it, meaning the taxi. She said if he would get in she would show him. He said so and asked her if she stole it. She bridled at that and said he would have to prove it. She was told to get out and refused. She was in and she was going to show him. The Sergeant said if she was so crazy to ride he would call the wagon and give her a little journey to the station. At that she got out. A chauffeur's cap and a man's hat were found in the machine. She was taken to the station in the other taxi. Her explanations were not lucid. Presently along came a chauffeur, Frank Foley, 27, of 4045 St. Louis avenue. He was less lucid. All that he remembered was that he was driving three women and a man and the first thing he knew Meyer had neither taxi nor passengers. The only thing he was clear about was that it was a shabby trick, her taking his car like that. Both were locked up.

MAN WHO WAS SHOT BY SON-IN-LAW DIES

Samuel Whitmore Was Wounded by Frank Grady
Who Killed Wife and Self.

Samuel Whitmore, 50 years old, who was shot Saturday afternoon in his home at White Oak, near Marietta, Ill., by his son-in-law, Francis J. Grady, 28, who previously had shot and killed his wife, Ella, 35, and who later killed himself, died at 9:30 o'clock last night. The bullet which caused his death entered his neck and severed the spinal cord, causing paralysis.

In an antemortem statement he said he was lying on a bed at his home when Grady entered and shot him. Inquests were held yesterday on Grady and his wife. Verdicts of murder and suicide were returned. There were two witnesses at the inquest in Mrs. Grady's case. Leo Cundiff testified that he was driving from Marietta to White Oak with his young child in the machine and picked up Mrs. Grady who was walking to White Oak. Near the Marietta mill he was halted by Grady, who wanted to sell him some oats and suggested that he go along and show the oats to him. He got in and half way to White Oak drew a revolver and ordered Cundiff to stop and made him get out of the machine. He said he would give Cundiff until he counted three to get the child out of the machine. Cundiff took the child out at one side and Grady went to the other side and seized Mrs. Grady by the arm and shot her through the head.

Grady went in the direction of White Oak and Cundiff turned and drove back to Marietta, where Mrs. Grady was pronounced dead. Linden Farmer testified that he was driving toward White Oak when Grady stopped him with his revolver and compelled Farmer to take him to White Oak.

Grady went to the home of his father-in-law and shot him and went into the timber a short distance away and killed himself.

LEWIS VISITORS AT VERDUN
Dedicate Tablet to Defenders of Place in Great War.
By the Associated Press.
VERDUN, France, Aug. 22.—Members of the American Legion this morning dedicated a tablet to the defenders of Verdun in the city hall here. The ceremony was carried out in the presence of all the city officials. The tablet was erected to the men who during the terrible German onslaught of February and March, 1916, stood before Verdun and held back the enemy.
The tablet bears an inscription stating it was dedicated to the men who uttered the immortal words: "They shall not pass." At the end of the ceremony four of the Americans were decorated by the municipality with the special medal of Verdun.

ROBINSON GIVES VIEWS AS TO OPERA'S FUTURE
Former Board Member Believes the Orchestra Should Be Featured.

George R. Robinson of Kirkwood, a former member of the Board of Directors of the Municipal Theater Association, has written a letter to the Post-Dispatch regarding the future of the municipal opera enterprise. A letter written by Robinson on the same theme at the end of the 1920 opera season was printed in the Post-Dispatch at that time. His present communication written in Atlantic City, is less severely critical than that of last year. He writes: "I cannot agree with Mr. Spamer in his excellently written article bearing on the future work of the Municipal Opera Association in St. Louis. The most convincing proof of the wisdom of the course followed by the association lies in the ever-increasing interest of the people evidenced by their increased attendance. For some unexplained reason St. Louisans have for many years been detractors of the lighter form of opera by the best composers—composers who have been truly great in their chosen field. From the days of Schneider's Garden and Uhrig's Cave with Blanche Chapman and George Denham, worthy performances of such operas could be counted upon to draw good audiences and profitable business in St. Louis. It has been tried out in practically every city in the United States, but not even in New York, Los Angeles or Atlantic City has there been the sustained interest to justify a continuation from year to year; even the famous Tivoli company in San Francisco, after 15 years of more or less successful revivals of the same class of operas as are being given by the Municipal Opera Association, succumbed. At one time Cincinnati was considered a rival of St. Louis in its appreciation of this class of music for summer performances, but it has given them up. Mr. Gallagher's suggestion to supplement the season with carefully chosen grand opera performances of the lighter sort is a good one, but this could hardly be done to advantage at the end of a strenuous season, unless the cast was changed or amplified, very materially.

"The male members of this summer's cast could do full justice to such operas, but it is doubtful if the women of the company could. Thomas 'Mignon,' which older St. Louisans became familiar with in the days of the Bostonians—Jessie Bartlett Davis, Barnabee, McDonald and Karl—would be by all odds the best opera to serve this purpose. The operas recommended by Gallagher would require a new company and equipment. The work involved would be too great to be undertaken by the summer company tired from the continuous and arduous work of the season. In spite of the generally good repertoires of the past seasons, there is a wealth of material in good light opera yet unproduced—and by composers whose works we love to hear. I refer to Victor Herbert, Sidney Jones, Sullivan, Johann Strauss, Millocher, De-Koven, Oscar Strauss, Lionel Monckton and others. Some of the best of their works have not yet been given on the Municipal stage.

"The greatest opportunity for improvement in the performances lies in the featuring of the orchestra, which must be done in some unique and novel form which would be easily possible. There is a musical investment there, the force and beauty of which was never conceived by the composers themselves, but which force and beauty is being rendered comparatively impotent and economically burdensome for the lack of a radical and original plan of utilization. The operas should be chosen now and should be re-orchestrated so that every instrument to be employed can be utilized to the very fullest extent. The stage and the pit should be merged in some manner (Tom Barnett can do it) so that these excellent performers of the Symphony Orchestra—the very greatest asset the Municipal Opera has—will not be buried, but featured. Under past conditions these men have not done their best work—they couldn't. To think of smothering Gustafson, Steindel and other big men of this orchestra down in that pit! We ought to tell the world that we have as first violinist a fine musician who is to give his own concert in Town Hall, New York in October. Yes, I know that this featuring of the orchestra would be a radical move, but so was the producing of light opera on such a scale of magnificence in Forest Park a radical thing to do. The patrons of the opera in St. Louis apparently do not want the general character of the productions changed, but rather tend to insist in the present line, gradually building up the musical values of the performances until there shall be nothing that will eclipse them in any country of the world. People do not attend summer performances nor will they to become better musically educated, but for pure enjoyment, which they have evidently gotten out of the performances of the St. Louis Opera during the season of 1921."

SECRET COMMISSION BARRED
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—A recent order of the Federal Trade Commission, made public today, directs the Sealwood Company of St. Louis, distributors of "Sealwood," a substitute for shellac, to discontinue the giving of secret cash commissions to employees of its customers to induce purchase of its products. According to the commission's statement, the company admitted the practice and consented to the issuance of the order.

MILK FUND ACTORS TO ACCEPT NO FLOWERS
Children in Program Also Decide Not to Respond to Encores.

Child actors who will participate in the elaborate vaudeville entertainment for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund at the Orpheum Theater next Saturday evening have announced their unanimous decision that none of them will accept encores or flowers. They prefer that those of their friends who wish to express their appreciation of the show do so by adding the amount which they would spend for flowers toward increasing the total of the fund for the babies. With no encores the show will be amply long to satisfy the most insatiable theater-goer, for 16 vaudeville numbers are programmed, ranging from an immense cabaret production through varied song and dance acts to an amusing sketch. Each act will represent one of the leading schools of music, dancing or expression, and will be presented by the pick of the school's pupils. All of the acts are new, never having been given before a St. Louis audience before, and the program promises to compare favorably with those given by professional acts.

SHIPPING BOARD SELLS 205 WOODEN VESSELS

Bids of $2100 Each From Ship Construction and Trading Corporation Accepted.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Bids of $2100 each for 205 wooden vessels submitted by the Ship Construction and Trading Corporation of Newark have been accepted by the Shipping Board, it was announced officially last night.

A contract for sale between the corporation and the Shipping Board has been drawn up under direction of Commissioner Edward C. Plummer and will be approved by the board Tuesday, providing the purchaser completes the required bond. Under its terms the board will receive 15 per cent of the total sale price of $430,500 in cash, and a pro-rata portion of the balance upon delivery of each vessel.

Plummer said last night the board had devoted a great deal of time to the study of the bids in view of the "terribly low prices which were offered," but considered that the best thing under the circumstances would be to accept the offered price for part of the fleet. The vessels cost the board from $300,000 to $300,000 each. As to the vessels retained, Commissioner Plummer explained, the Shipping Board was considering the possibility of their utilization as pontoons for the proposed bridge across the Hudson river at New York City.

SHIP'S CAPTAIN SLAIN BY DRUG-CRAZED COOK

Japanese Killed by First Mate of Schooner Putting Into San Francisco, With Water in Hold.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—With two members of her crew and half her cargo aboard, the four-masted schooner Sophie Christensen put into port Saturday night with her hold nearly filled with water. Her captain, Michael McCarron, was murdered by H. Hiyama, the Japanese cook, and Hiyama was slain by Charles Ferris, first mate. The ship arrived here in command of Ferris, who told a tale of horror concerning the happenings aboard since the Sophie Christensen left Gray's Harbor, Wash., May 5, bound for Callao, Peru, with a cargo of Oregon pine. "We were about 20 days out," said Ferris, "when Hiyama sneaked into the skipper's cabin in the middle of the night and cut the captain's throat with a razor. I had to hit the cook over the head with a club to subdue him. He died three or four hours later and we threw his body overboard."

Cook Was Drug Addict.
Capt. McCarron was 56 years old and had followed the sea all his life. According to William McCarron, his nephew and a member of the crew, Hiyama was a drug addict and had often threatened him. "I was on the lookout watch the night of the murder," said William McCarron. "The captain never permitted any lights aboard the ship at night and had gone to sleep in his dark cabin. Second Mate Dubnowsky saw the Japanese going toward the skipper's quarters about 2 o'clock in the morning. He started to follow him, then went back to get his flashlight."

Story of Struggle in Cabin.
"Before he could return he heard the Captain scream loudly. Dubnowsky rushed to the cabin. Turning his light into the small room he saw the cook and the master of the vessel in a death grapple on the floor. He flung himself upon the Japanese and cried for help. I ran to the scene and by the aid of my flashlight saw the three men in a furious struggle on the deck. The Japanese had his teeth sunk deep into the Captain's shoulder and he was hacking about him wildly with a razor in an attempt to reach the second mate."

"I kill old man; now I kill you."

NEW SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH ESTABLISHED AT HARVARD

Rockefeller Foundation Gave $1,785,000 Toward Project Which Will Provide Opportunities for Research.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Establishment of a school of public health at Harvard University, with the aid of an initial gift of $1,785,000 by the Rockefeller foundation, was announced here yesterday by the university and the officers of the foundation.

"The new school," a statement of the foundation says, "will provide opportunities for research, will unify existing courses, and will offer new or extended teaching facilities in public health administration, vital statistics, immunology, bacteriology, medical zoology, physiological hygiene and communicable diseases."

The cost of maintenance and development of the school, it adds, "will be met from endowment funds in part set aside by the university and in part contributed by the foundation."

Counsel for Royal Arcanum Dies.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Howard C. Wiggins, general counsel for the Royal Arcanum in North America, and for many years prominently connected with the order, is dead at his home here. He had been supreme regent of the organization in the United States and Canada and grand regent of the grand council of the State of New York.

The firm is composed of George M. Woolsey, William J. Palmer and John J. Gillies. The failure occasioned considerable surprise, as the firm organized in its present form a year ago, had been prominent as a commission house for 10 years and there had been no intimation of embarrassment. In some quarters the failure was attributed to the inability of customers to meet obligations and to the shrinkage in the last six months of values of many securities held by the firm as collateral. Albert W. Lutnam, a member of another stock exchange firm, was appointed receiver.

MINNEAPOLIS SYMPHONY'S UNION TROUBLES SETTLED

Orchestra to Continue Concerts Next Season as Result of Understanding.

By the Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 22.—The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, threatened with dissolution for several months because of union difficulties, will continue its concerts at the opening of the next season, following the amicable settlement of all disputed points.

Removal of the Minneapolis Park board, with which the unions had been at variance, from the "unfair list," and the concurrence of the national president of the American Federation of Musicians, removed the last obstacle which for a time seemed to be the cause for the disruption of the musical organization. Trouble between the Minneapolis Orchestra Association, which guarantees the Symphony financially, and the Musicians' Association of Minneapolis, in which the musicians are members, arose when the American Federation of Musicians refused to grant permission to the Symphony Orchestra to play at concerts at Lake Harriet here, because the local park board had contracted for the services at other Minneapolis parks of another band which was not affiliated with the American Federation.

Martinson, while Sheriff, charged with aiding four others who later were convicted and sent to prison, in the liquor smuggling.

The driver of the wagon told the police that the boy climbed on to the wagon in his home and drove it off.

An Olive-Delmar street car struck the automobile of Joseph Goodman, 1818 Gay street, at 8:35 p. m., as Goodman endeavored to turn it near Olive-Delmar boulevard, into a fill-in station. Goodman and Mr. and Mrs. Minnie Provich of the Carr street address, with their three children, were cut and bruised, none seriously.

The automobile of George Burke, 609 Robert avenue, St. Louis County, skidded at 8:30 p. m. on the wet pavement in front of 5923 North Market street and collided with an automobile which was parked there. Mrs. Margaret Cauley, 27, of 2411 South Broadway, a passenger in Burke's machine, was thrown into the wind shield, suffering cuts of the face, shoulders and head.

An automobile truck driven by Alex Berg, 47, a butcher, of 2811 Gambel street, collided at 8:35 a. m. at Lucky street and Vandeventer with a truck driven by Daniel J. Thomas J. Curran, 4520 Delmar boulevard, turning his automobile from Walton avenue into Washington boulevard, at 6:45 p. m., struck Mrs. Elizabeth Renken, 47, a widow, of 1034 Gimblin street, who was crossing the street. She suffered internal injuries and cuts. Curran said Mrs. Renken stepped into the path of his car. He was arrested.

Burning Oil Well Runs to Salt Water
By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 22.—The fire which broke out Friday on lot 224 in the Amatlan oil field near Tampico was extinguished when the well ran to salt water, according to official advices received here yesterday. It had been feared the oil field workers would have serious difficulties in extinguishing the flames.

W. H. LIPE, MILLIONAIRE, HANGS SELF IN GARAGE

Beech Nut Magnate Recently Became Vice President of American Sugar Refining Co.

CANAJOHARIE, N. Y., Aug. 22.—The body of Walter H. Lipe, 55 years old, was found hanging in a garage at his home here at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. Four weeks ago he was elected vice president of the American Sugar Refining Co., and was expected to be in New York today to begin his duties as sales manager. He had packed his bag and was supposed to have left for New York, but some time after the departure of his train Mrs. Lipe discovered the bag in his room. After several hours the body was found hanging in the garage.

Lipe is supposed to have become mentally unbalanced owing to more or less fancied physical and financial difficulties. He carried life insurance aggregating several hundred thousand dollars and a short time ago tried to take out $150,000 more, but after examination was refused. Since then he has been melancholy at times. He was one of the founders and until recently a big factor in the Beech Nut Packing Co. of Canajoharie. He sold his interest several months ago to E. C. Moore, New York, son of the president of the National Biscuit Co.

Early in the business slump following the close of the war, Lipe became fearful as to the future of the big enterprise he had aided in establishing, and no words from his justifiably optimistic partners seemed to have any effect upon him, albeit the company was in excellent condition in every way and doing good business. Finally, to relieve him of all Beech Nut cares, his interests were taken over by the Moores, and subsequent events have demonstrated that Lipe's fears were groundless.

Lipe lived in retirement until a month ago, when he was elected vice president of the American Sugar Refining Co., in which he had long been a stockholder. He was considered a millionaire and one of Central New York's successful men, having started at the very bottom and been the beneficiary only of opportunities that he created. For years he had done much for Canajoharie.

He loved the place and the big business he had been so importantly identified with, and the mistake he made in disposing of his interests and the fact that he was to leave the village, together with physical ailments, undoubtedly were responsible for his mental derangement.

Lipe was a good public speaker and had often addressed conventions here and abroad anent provision packing, pure food and various ramifications. He was an ardent, active Republican, but was too busy ever to hold public office. He was a tireless worker during the war for the Red Cross, various loans and all movements calling for war finances. He is survived by his wife and two daughters.

How to Beautify a Summer-Soiled Face

It's really a simple matter to renovate a face soiled by sun, winds or dirt. Ordinary mercolized wax, used like cold cream, will transform the worst old complexion into one of snowy whiteness and velvety softness. It literally peels off the outer veil of surface skin, but so gently, gradually, there's no discomfort. The worn-out skin comes off, not in patches, but evenly in tiny particles, leaving no evidence of the treatment. The younger, healthier underlain forming the new complexion is one of captivating loveliness. One ounce of mercolized wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to remove any tanned, reddened, pimpled, freckled or blotchy skin. Apply before retiring, washing it off mornings. Many skin wrinkles easily with every wind that blows, with heat, worry, etc. An excellent wrinkle remover, because it tightens the skin and strengthens relaxed muscles, is a wash lotion made as follows: Powdered exfolite, one ounce, dissolved in witch-hazel one-half pint. This gives immediate results.

"CARNIVAL" FILM OF RARE BEAUTY

"The Whistle," "Stranger Than Fiction," "Little Italy" and
"The Journey's End" Are Other Features.

"Carnival," at the West End Lyric and Lyric Skydome, is another splendid foreign picture, a worthy successor to "Passion" and "Deception," although not, like them, a German picture. It has every element of a noble drama. Not alone are the settings rich and romantic,
but the story is of sterling artistic merit, and the cast is a commanding one.

The picture was filmed in Venice,
by an American, with an English company. Naturally, the place affords some fine, picturesque background, and it is well utilized. The story is that of Silvio Steno, a great tragedian, and his young and beautiful wife, Simonetta. The latter, treated by her indulgent husband
as a spoiled child, is impelled by loneliness and pique to an innocent
flirtation with Silvio's best friend.
When discovered by Silvio, however, the attachment bears the marks of a guilty one.

His apparent discovery occurs
just before his first appearance in the role of "Othello." There ensues
a performance that fascinates and frustrates the audience. Crazed by jealousy, Silvio finds himself tragically fitted for the part of the Moor. His portrayal is horrible and and, at the climactic strangling of Simonetta, he goes through a grim grin realism which brings the spectators shrieking from their seats, and causes the ringing down
of the curtain.

Matherson Lang, who takes the part of Silvio, is tremendous in these furious scenes. Of magnificent stature, and gifted with telling facial expression, he is truly a great
"Othello," as he is a great "Silvio."
The acting of Hilja Baili in the role of Simonetta is eminently satisfactory, and the rest of the cast is adequate.

Memory of Caruso Honored.
The memory of Caruso is being honored in impressive style at two
St. Louis moving picture theaters this week. The great tenor made two ventures as a screen actor, starring in "My Cousin" and "Prince Ubaldo." At the Missouri the Caruso memorial feature of the program is elaborate and impressive.
Several of his most famous arias are sung by a capable tenor with appropriate scenic investiture and chorus. Motion pictures of Caruso also are shown. At the New Grand Central pictures of him are shown and one of his phonograph records is played with orchestra and organ accompaniment.

The picture offering at the Missouri is William S. Hart in "The Whistle." Here, as he has frequently done in recent releases, Hart steps out of the Western character which won him his fame. He is a worker in mill and the subject matter of the play is based upon the differences between capital and labor to such an extent as to be almost controversial. Through carelessness and lack of proper safeguards the worker's child is killed.
This is made the occasion for the worker to place the entire burden of blame on the employer. To drive
this lesson home and to make up for the loss of his own son, the worker sequesters his employer's son. There are several dramatic scenes, notably the one in which a speeding automobile goes through a drawbridge which has been left open by a careless watchman. There also are some realistic factory scenes. The picture in the main is poignantly serious, though it is relieved at times by touches of humor.
Hart makes the most of his opportunity, but at times one wishes he would settle his grievances by chucking up the factory job and jumping into the saddle of his famous pinto pony, where he would feel at home and have no boss to roast.

"Stranger Than Fiction," with Katherine MacDonald and Wesley Frederick Barry in leading roles is the weirdly melodramatic but interestingly feature at the New Grand Central.

This picture is somewhat reminiscent of "Go and Get It," in that it works up a rather whimsical sequence of dramatic happenings as a peg on which to hang a series of thrilling airplane stunts. An outstanding feature is the cleverness of the title lines which hardly ever fire and send gales of laughter through the auditorium. Miss Mac-Donald's beauty and acting ability and Wesley Barry's grotesque comedy lend much to the value of the picture.

The Journey's End at Strand.
A real screen novelty is "The Journey's End," with Mabel Ballin
as the star at the Strand. This play, which has a highly religious atmosphere, is announced as having been written by Sister Ellen, a nun of the Dominican order. It is a serious drama of full program length without a single title line, and it is so skillfully constructed and developed that it needs none. The pictures tell the story. Miss Ballin has rare beauty and charm in the role of a convent-bred girl who marries and then discovers that her husband is wanted for murder. The husband's murderer will kill her. There is a fine scene of renunciation when the husband puts a letter bearing his own name in the pocket of a man who has been killed in the collapse of a building, thus creating the belief that it was he who was killed. In this belief the employer and the worker's wife are married.
The self-effacing husband meanwhile has gone to Rome and become a monk. There is a dramatic scene
when the newlyweds, touring Rome,
meet the supposedly dead husband
who has been assigned to guide them through the catacombs. Several of the scenes were photographed in Rome.

Alice Brady at Kings.
Alice Brady in "Little Italy" is the principal attraction for the first half of the week at the Kings

Airdome. The star has a medium here which gives full scope to her

GOOD TO GO TO RUSSIA AS SOON AS SHIPS ARE READY

American Supply Ships to Cross Atlantic Again in War on Starvation and Sickness.

STOCKS ABROAD TO BE USED FIRST

Meeting Wednesday of All Organizations Participating in Work Under Relief Administration.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Once more American supply ships are heading for the Atlantic—this time carrying food munitions for the American Relief Administration's war against starvation and sickness among the children of Soviet Russia.

Food shipments from New York are to begin as soon as vessels are ready, officials said last night. It was believed that surplus supplies from warehouses abroad were already moving into Russia under the working agreement negotiated at Riga between Walter Lyman Brown, European director of the organization, and Litvinoff, the soviet representative.

So far, officials declared, Secretary Hoover, chairman of the administration, has only outlined in a broad general way the plan for organizing the Russian famine. Before the program can be worked out in finished detail, it was explained, relief agents must size up the situation in the various famine areas and report on the difficulties, such as transportation, to be overcome and the number of hungry mouths to be fed. Famine areas near Petrograd and Moscow, the most accessible regions, it was believed, would be the first to receive American rations, shipments from New York coming by way of Danzig, but later it was thought supplies from this country could reach some of the stricken areas quicker through the Black Sea.

Surplus Abroad to Be Used.

At first, because of the nature of the country, food relief in Russia necessarily must be limited, officials asserted, but as the administration's resources are reached, its maximum speed, they predict that vast stocks of foodstuffs will cross the seas to Russian children.

Every dollar to be expended by the administration on behalf of Russian children will be spent in this country, Hoover has announced, and all the food used will be sent from here with the exception of such surplus stocks already abroad. Purchasing agents of the administration, officials explained, would buy required supplies where they can be best obtained in this country.

Withdrawal of large quantities of foodstuffs from the United States would help the famine in the movement of accumulated crops, it was asserted.

These supplies have been specially selected to meet dietary needs of the young, consisting of light and more easily digested foods, such as rice, sugar, and fat for soup making, condensed milk and beans. Accurate distribution, it was said, would probably be made at hot kitchens where the children would be fed twice a day, as this method would insure the food reaching its intended objects and enable the most careful care on outgoing supplies.

Cost $1,250,000 a Month.

Secretary Hoover estimated the cost of Russian relief, when it is well under way, at from $1,250,000 to $1,500,000 a month. The administration will depend upon its treasury, he said, for necessary funds and upon current contributions of co-operating organizations and individuals.

All American organizations participating in the work under the American Relief Administration will meet here Wednesday for a preliminary conference with Hoover. Unity in the distribution of American charity in Russia was asked by President Harding to insure the best service to the peoples of both countries and to eliminate the creation of unnecessary organizations for collection of funds.

Once under way, American food relief in Russia is to be a purely government controlled operation without government support. Because of Hoover's dual role, as Secretary of Commerce and chairman of the Relief Administration, complaints are said to have been drawn in Europe, resulting from commercial jealousy, that this country was aiming at trade exploitation in Russia under the guise of charity. However, both Hoover and the State Department have made it plain that American aid is entirely humanitarian and

Tax Reductions of Fordney Revenue Bill Denounced by a Republican Congressman as Purely Illusory

Keller of Minnesota, Charging Juggling, Says Burden Is Taken From War Profiteers and Put on Small Business.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Representative Oscar E. Keller of the Fourth Minnesota District, one of the Republicans who voted against the Fordney revenue bill, declares in a statement issued yesterday that a half billion dollar deficit will face the country at the end of the year as "the certain result of this attempt to deceive the people by dodging budget requirements."

It was in order to enable the Secretary of the Treasury to take care of this deficit, Keller asserts, that a provision was put into the bill authorizing the Secretary to increase the certificates of indebtedness outstanding from $7,000,000,000 to $7,500,000,000. He says the so-called tax reductions in the bill are "purely illusory and only have been accomplished on paper for political effect by the palpable juggling of figures."

Republican's Statement.

The statement in full is as follows:

"The Fordney revenue bill has been railroaded through the House in accordance with the plan for a revenue business. It will have just the opposite effect. Instead of unshackling business, which admitted it is suffering from high taxation, this bill heaves heavier burdens upon industry. Fortunately, some of the worst features were eliminated at a party caucus, but the fundamental evils remain.

"Repeal of the excess profits tax and reduction of the individual income tax rates from 65 per cent to 35 per cent relieves less than 20,000 persons—most of them war profiteers—of an average tax of $30,000 a year, and directly adds an average tax of $600 a year to about 200,000 small producing corporations of this country. As a matter of fact, the indirect burden will be much heavier, because the Fordney bill will result in a deficit of approximately half a billion dollars and this, too, will have to be assumed by small business men.

"'Taxing Millions.'

"An income tax can be justified only on the theory that it is imposed in accordance with ability to pay. The Fordney bill destroys this theory by taxing millions and adds to the load of smaller concerns already struggling against unfair advantages given to their larger, monopolistic competitors. A bill calculated to injure the smaller, legitimate business interests of the country could not be devised.

"The most infamous feature of the Fordney program was eliminated by the Republican caucus. A bill proposed to make the repeal of the excess profits tax and the reduction of the income surtaxes retroactive to Jan. 1, 1921. Most of those affected already had paid the taxes they handled, and passed the sum total along to the consuming public, so that the retroactive feature virtually would have presented the government with a blank check. This indefensible suggestion shows the extreme partiality to wealth that actuated the framers of the bill.

"The claim is made that this bill will reduce taxes $193,640,000 for the present fiscal year, $377,790,000 for the fiscal year of 1922; and $790,330,000 for the fiscal year of 1923. These so-called 'tax reductions' are purely illusory and only have been accomplished on paper for political effect by the palpable juggling of figures. The claim will not stand analysis. If there is any reduction in taxes during the year it will be accomplished by a corresponding increase in the public debt and this attempt to deceive the people is quite on a par with the proposal to donate the war profiteers a $350,000,000 bonus.

"Mellon's 'Revised Statement.'

"Secretary Mellon told the Ways and Means committee on Aug. 4 that the Treasury Department estimated the expenditures for the current year at $4,554,012,817, of which $2,830,000,000 must be provided by taxation. This was considerably higher than the guesses of those who had been predicting lower taxes and it created consternation in administration ranks. There were hasty conferences between the House and on Aug. 10—presumably as the result of presidential pressure—Secretary Mellon issued a 'revised statement' which placed the governmental expenditures at $4,024,000,000 of which but $3,075,000,000 was to be raised by taxation.

"Secretary Mellon's first report stated that the estimates which the Treasury has presented may be regarded as conservative, and, after of $170,000,000 from the floating debt, the House Ways and Means Committee, stated they had checked over the first estimate carefully, made allowances for the reductions of Gen. Dawes, and in the end they concluded that the 'revision upward'.

"In view of these facts Mr. Mellon's 'revised estimate' is not convincing. It becomes ridiculous when analyzed. He reduces his 'revised' estimated expenditures by arbitrarily chopping off $350,000,000 from various departmental appropriations—not specifying exactly where—and by postponing payment of $170,000,000 on the floating debt. He then makes equally arbitrary increases of $341,000,000 in his 'revised' estimate of sums to be raised from war salvage, the tariff, back taxes and 'miscellaneous other sources.' He adds these mythical amounts and announces that taxes can be decreased by the total.

"'Deficits 'Are Probable.'

"Anyone familiar with departmental red tape and extravagance will smile at Mr. Mellon's naïve belief that any money already appropriated is going to be returned. Most of the appropriations for the fiscal year already have been made. Deficits in most cases are more probable than surpluses.

"Chairman Lasker of the Shipping Board has declared he will need $300,000,000 instead of the $48,000,000 appropriated. Director Davis of the Railroad Administration admitted he cannot even approximate the sums his department will require, and the President himself informed Congress that his unwillingness to mobilize the army as rapidly as the legislative body decreed might require additional appropriations.

"The Government is spending far more than its estimated needs. For the first month of the fiscal year, it spent $15,000,000 more than it had budgeted. For the first 15 days of August governmental expenditures were $20,000,000 larger than those of the year ago. An excess of $35,000,000 in six weeks over the expenditures of a year ago is not a good start toward reducing our expenditures to $4,024,000,000.

"Secretary Mellon's 'revised' estimate of receipts is in keeping with the estimate of income from the sale of war surplus of $80,000,000 to $200,000,000; predicts the tariff will bring in $70,000,000 additional before the Senate has fixed the duties, and advances his estimate of collection of income tax back from $255,000,000 to $300,000,000.

"'Transparent Juggling.'

"I cannot conceive how any person can be duped by this transparent juggling of figures. The Fordney bill itself bears unmistakable evidence of deceit and hypocrisy. It authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to increase the certificates of indebtedness outstanding from $7,000,000,000 to $7,500,000,000, and this provision was put into the bill to enable the Secretary of the Treasury to take care of the half billion dollar deficit at the end of the year, which will be the certain result of this attempt to deceive the people by dodging budget requirements.

"Attempts have been made to justify the Fordney bill on the ground that it reduces taxes. This is a delusion. This unscientific, patchwork compromise will not lower taxes, and it will not stimulate business. It fear it will accentuate the existing depression. The administration was too solicitous of privilege to increase inheritance taxes or to levy upon monopolistic land values, the only two fields which could yield large revenue without adding to the burdens of business."

wholly disconnected from trade and commerce.

The American Relief Administration, officials declared, "steps in" to pick up the work among the children and sick of Russia already begun and still being carried on by the American Friends Service Committee, which will be one of co-operating organizations under the larger body.

Mexico to Hold Public Hearings on Oil Sales.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 20.—Possibly solution of the difficulties between Mexico and the United States relative to article 27 of the Constitution, which has to do with petroleum deposits in oil companies here, is in the announcement that the president has ordered the holding of public hearings beginning Tuesday next, on temporary injunction suits brought against the Government by foreign oil companies, some of which have been pending since 1918.

Various oil men stated today that if the court's decision is far reaching enough they doubtless would be as-

FRENCH FOREIGN LEGION SURVIVORS MEET IN PARIS

Colors of 69 Nations Float Over Ancient Walls at Celebration, Participated In by Notables.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1921, by the Press Publishing Co., The New York World.

PARIS, Aug. 22.—In the historic courtyard of the Invalides where just seven years ago 50,000 foreigners rushed to enroll in the legions of France, 500 of the survivors gathered yesterday to commemorate the anniversary of their manifestation of devotion to France.

The colors of 69 nations floated over the ancient walls. Delegates were received by M. Danielet, High Commissioner of Propaganda, and representatives of President Millerand and the different ministries.

Gen. D'Amboise, commander of the Legion of Honor and Gen. Pau had also come to salute the foreign volunteers, who, as one orator emphasized, had flocked to the defense of France, not of the ideal that Germany sought to destroy.

Ten thousand of the foreign legion volunteers perished in its defense in the first year.

After the ceremony at the Invalides, the delegates marched in procession to the Arc de Triomphe, where they laid a plate on the tomb of the unknown soldier. Here, on behalf of the American group, Col. Charles Sweeney, better known as "Sweeney of the Legion," made the following address:

"Soldiers of France, we celebrate at your tomb today the memory of those of us who, like you, died for liberty and justice. They are dead, but your glory, like theirs, is eternal. And if we survivors have suffered in our flesh, the war has not blunted our ideals. We remain the same men, ready if your motherland and civilization were in danger again, to do as you did in 1914.

"The entire diplomatic corps was represented, with the exception of the American and German embassies, the former having neglected to send a representative, the latter not having been invited.

accepted as law of the land, as indicating Mexico's judicial interpretation of controversial clauses of the famous article.

It is understood that approximately 150 of the suits, most of them dating back to the Carranza regime, will be called up for hearing.

Well-to-do Russians Going to Caucasus, Where Food Is Obtainable

By the Associated Press.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 22.—The Russian famine has not as yet affected the Caucasus region, according to the latest advices reaching here. Rumors that hordes fleeing from the famine district were moving southward toward the Caucasus territory, are denied. Thousands of well-to-do Russians, however, are leaving the Volga and Donetz district for the Caucasus, where food can be obtained by those having the money to buy it.

Reports received here from Rumania declare that the indications are that the grain crop there is so poor that it might almost be called a failure.

Col. William N. Haskell to Supervise Relief Work in Russia.

By the Associated Press.

RIGA, Aug. 22.—Col. William N. Haskell, who directed relief in Armenia, has been appointed to supervise the famine relief work of the American Relief Administration in Russia. It was announced that he will leave the United States for Russia immediately.

Col. Haskell, whose home is in Albany, N. Y., was appointed High Commissioner of England, France, Italy and the United States to Armenia by the peace conference in July, 1919, resigning a year later.

50,000 Persons Leave Famine District in Russia in One Month.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—In less than a month the Moscow-Kazan Railroad has carried 50,000 peasants from the famine district toward Siberia, where 40,000 have departed on Volga River steamers, while many others are tramping the roads without waiting for local relief schemes to be put into operation, says the Daily Herald's Moscow correspondent.

He adds that 15,000 peasants from the stricken districts are expected to go to Petrograd. Employment for them will be found on Soviet farms near Moscow. These farms are to send 630 tons of rye to the Volga region.

Unceasing efforts are being made in behalf of child suffer, according to the correspondent, nearly 200 institutions, capable of accommodating 17,000 children, having been established. The Child Welfare Commission regularly is sending ambulances and feeding trains to Orenburg, Chelabinsk and Bugulma to relieve the starving children.

HOW ST. LOUIS IS WAGING FIGHT ON TUBERCULOSIS BY TREATMENT AND EDUCATION

Nelson Cunliff Writes of Methods Followed in City's Campaign on the Disease and on Ignorance Concerning It.

By Nelson Cunliff
Director of Public Welfare.

ALL post-mortem examinations held in St. Louis during recent years show that the subjects of these examinations are infected with tuberculosis. This means that a close microscopic examination of the tissues of the lungs of every one of us would show tubercle bacilli. Very few of us realize how susceptible we are to the development of this great white plague. The Department of Public Welfare has long recognized the danger from this source and is now taking a very active part in the battle that is being waged against this common enemy.

The records of this department show that one person in every 165 (including all ages) has tubercle bacilli in his sputum and is therefore an active carrier and distributor of this disease. These carriers are responsible for the universal tuberculous infection of the race. How well they are succeeding is shown by the records of the Health Department of this city. Last year one out of every 10 deaths was reported as caused by tuberculosis. This ratio of deaths remains fairly constant throughout the entire year. In other words, we may have an epidemic of measles, smallpox, whooping cough or influenza, which may last a limited time and is over with, but the deaths from tuberculosis are constant and in fact increasing year by year with our increase in population. The only exception that has been recorded in this connection was for the years immediately after the influenza epidemic during those years there was an abnormal increase in deaths of tuberculous individuals reported as influenza, which served to cut down the death rate from this disease the succeeding years.

Danger Lies in Ignorance.

The great danger from this disease, like many other diseases, comes about through ignorance. With this in view, the Department of Public Welfare is endeavoring to disseminate authentic information on this subject and to render real personal service in the way of advice and counsel through its physicians and nurses. The first step in this direction is to prove that tuberculosis is hereditary. Nearly all of the histories of the patients received at the various tuberculosis clinics and hospitals show that the patient feels that his disease is from hereditary causes. This theory has been disproved. The records show that a calf born of a tuberculous cow, provided the calf was removed immediately from the cow after birth and fed from the milk of a healthy cow, would not become infected with tuberculosis.

New York has experimented for over 16 years on this work. There are children in that city today who were born of tuberculous mothers and these same children were immediately taken from their mothers and raised on artificial feeding. These children, who are today 15 years old, show absolutely no signs of tuberculosis. In St. Louis, at our own Koch Hospital, a number of children have been born of tuberculous mothers. It has been our practice to remove them from this disease and take them to a local children's hospital, where they can be fed by a wet nurse. These children today show no signs or symptoms of tuberculosis. On the contrary, when one of these babies was permitted to remain in its home in which the father had tuberculosis, the father died within six weeks after the birth of the child and the child followed its father and died at the age of 10 months. This was caused by the fact that the father had embraced this child and nursed it as an ordinary father would do and, acting as a carrier agent, infected the innocent babe with this dreaded disease.

Another very common idea is that tuberculosis comes largely from infected milk. This is true in European countries, but the same does not hold good to the same extent in the United States. It will be recalled that cattle are scarce in the European countries and, while the health officers have authority, they have not found it advisable to exercise this authority and condemn to death those animals that they find infected with tuberculosis. In this country, health departments have exercised close supervision over all milk companies in our large cities and, through co-operation with the health departments of the various States and the Government, have not hesitated to eliminate all stock showing any signs of tuberculosis. Figures indicate that tuberculosis in Great Britain from the source of infected milk runs as high as 25 per cent, while in the United States those cases which originate from infected milk are less than 10 per cent of all the reported cases of tuberculosis.

Tuberculosis Is Curable.

The third point and probably the most important one is that tuberculosis is curable. While we may all show infinitesimal signs of tuberculosis, there is in nearly all of us the stamina and resistance which gives relative immunity against the disease. With this in view this department has arranged for places where people may go and be examined free of charge, to see if they may have

UCHIDA FAVORS A DISCUSSION OF PACIFIC ISSUES

Japanese Foreign Minister Says Japan Is Glad of Opportunity to Outline Policies at Washington.

AUSTRALIAN PREMIER'S VIEW OF PROBLEMS

Regrets Washington Did Not See Way Clear for Preliminary Conference on Important Questions.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, Aug. 22.—Foreign Minister Uchida is quoted in an interview distributed to the press by the Imperial Agency as declaring that the after-the-war complications of international relations renders it highly advisable and justifiable that, in the hope of establishing lasting peace in the world an international convention should be called for discussion of Pacific and Far Eastern questions in connection with the limitation of armaments proposed by the United States Government. Japan, says the Foreign Minister, is only too glad that it finds in the proposed convention an opportunity of stating its cherished aims and policies, as a contribution to the promotion of the peace of humanity.

"The Government's reply giving notice of formal acceptance," the Foreign Minister is quoted as saying, "will be issued after consideration of the draft of the text by the Diplomatic Advisory Council on Aug. 23. The necessary negotiations regarding the nature and range of the subjects for discussion at the conference have so far been well maintained through the diplomatic representation of the Imperial Government in Washington, with the result that a proper understanding is beginning to be secured."

Prudence forbade the publication of the concrete Japanese policy on the particular subjects to be taken up, but the Government, he said, could give assurance that it was determined to do its utmost for the attainment of general peace.

Premier Hughes' View of the Situation.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—William Morris Hughes, premier of Australia, interviewed by the London Times on the work of the recent conference of Dominion Premiers, expressed profound regret that the American Government had not seen its way clear to hold the suggested preliminary conference with regard to disarmament and Pacific questions, because "clearly it is useless to speak of limitation of naval armaments until one has removed the immediate cause of rivalry, and that means the reaching of a modus vivendi on the Pacific problems acceptable to the British empire, Japan, America and China."

"Frank discussion of the fundamental points at issue between these nations," Hughes continued, "would have cleared the way for the Washington conference. If a settlement of the Pacific problem is really possible, it could have been achieved at such a preliminary conference, and I think it obvious that, if no settlement was possible when the conference was commenced wholly of the Powers directly interested, it would be hopeless to expect settlement by the much larger and more unwieldy body which will be assembled at Washington."

"I can hardly tell you that this matter is of vital importance to Australia, and I am convinced it would have been most helpful to America to have had the views of the Dominion put directly before her. The outlook and the ideals of Australia are so nearly akin to those of America that she would be in the very nature of things most sympathetic to any views we might have advanced, and we, in our turn would have been most ready to listen to all she had to say."

Wants More Information.

Discussing editorially British acceptance of the invitation to the Washington conference, the London Times suggests that public confidence would be increased if from time to time more definite reports could be made of the progress in preliminary discussions of the agenda of the conference. It declares it is an opportune moment for the British Government to formulate a thoroughly considered British view concerning the international status of China, saying that, as Japan's ally and a close friend of America, Great Britain is in a particularly favorable position to express a view that may serve as a wise and fruitful compromise."

"The Times thinks the Shanghai Conference should be continued."

PREACHER BLAMES "SPURNED WOMAN"

Californian Accused of Wife Murder Attributes Arrest to Rejection of Overtures.

By the Associated Press.
SAN JOSE, Cal., Aug. 22.—A "spurned woman" is blamed by the Rev. John A. Spencer, former Santa Rosa preacher, for causing his arrest on a charge of wife murder. The Rev. Mr. Spencer, in advancing this theory yesterday, again asserted he was innocent of any attempt to do away with his wife.

Mrs. Spencer was reported drowned in Clear Lake, Lake County, July 27 last. Thirty-six hours later her body was buried. Thereafter certain reports and rumors reached Lake County authorities, the body was exhumed and, following an autopsy, a warrant charging the former minister with murder was issued.

The Rev. Mr. Spencer said he and his wife had lived for a time in the home of the woman at Santa Rosa. Later, he said, the woman made overtures of affection, which he spurned, and from his lack of heart interest, developed feeling to which he attributed his arrest.

The Rev. Mr. Spencer insisted Mrs. Spencer was drowned accidentally when she fell from their boat at night in Clear Lake. He declared that he plunged into the water and dived for her until exhausted. Upon coming here following the death of his wife the accused minister made arrangements to purchase a bungalow. The bungalow is occupied by Mrs. E. D. Barber, and it was the plan of Mrs. Barber and himself, the minister said, to take in roomers. Mrs. Barber yesterday expressed a desire to see the former minister before he was returned to Santa Rosa.

The request, however, according to Sheriff Lyle of this country, will not be granted. The Rev. Mr. Spencer was to be taken to Santa Rosa last night, it was announced.

Mrs. Barber showed solicitation for the minister's welfare. She declared he had been an invaluable "business counselor."

Manufacturers Should Not Regard The Chicago Market as Either Too Easy or Too Hard.

Every manufacturer with national aspirations quite naturally looks to The Chicago Market, because it is the most important market in America, and Chicago proper is now the fourth largest city in the world.

But many manufacturers stay out of it because they have heard that it is a hard market to conquer, and others rush in and pepper at it a little bit without accomplishing much, largely because, with so many people, they think it must be an easy market to conquer.

Now Chicago is neither a hard market nor an easy one. It is a perfectly normal market, and certainly not a costly one, considering its size.

The trouble with those manufacturers who thought it was too hard, as well as with those who thought it too easy, has been in confusing the idea of the "Chicago Market" proper with the so-called "Chicago Territory."

The Chicago Market proper, which is Chicago itself, has a population of three million people living shoulder to shoulder within a radius of forty miles. The Chicago Territory, which is the market of the five central states surrounding Chicago and influenced by Chicago, has a population of sixteen million people within a radius of four hundred miles.

But The Chicago Market and The Chicago Territory have been pictured to the manufacturer as one and the same thing, which he must put over at one and the same time. He has been told that this or that far-flung circulation, going everywhere, but in reality getting nowhere, would do the work.

But it can't be done that way.

The Chicago Market proper and The Chicago Territory are two quite separate things. The Chicago Territory is influenced strongly by The Chicago Market, but The Chicago Market is not influenced greatly by The Chicago Territory.

So you can't sell "The Chicago Territory"—that is, the hundreds of cities and towns in the five states surrounding Chicago—until you have actually sold The Chicago Market itself. Every live merchant outside of Chicago knows just what every dealer in Chicago is doing with every national product on his shelves. And the thirteen million people surrounding Chicago like to buy, and are influenced in buying, what Chicago buys.

But when you do sell The Chicago Market, when you find that you not only have complete distribution but popular demand at this center of influence, you will discover to your amazement that the cities and towns surrounding Chicago are already more than half sold before you get there.

Therefore, don't hesitate about your invasion of Chicago and the middle west. Come when you are ready. Take Chicago first and hunt up the medium in Chicago that all of the merchants in Chicago rely upon.

Don't worry about these far-flung circulations, spattering a hundred surrounding cities like a load of birdshot. Just come to the medium that covers Chicago and all of Chicago and nothing else.

That medium is THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS.

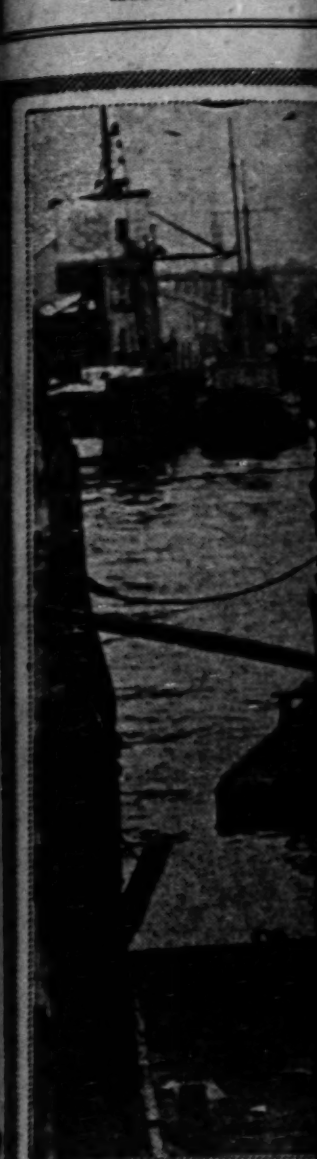

Four hundred thousand daily circulation, six days in the week, reaching seven out of nine of all the English speaking people in the fourth largest city in the world, and 94% of its entire circulation of 400,000 concentrated within a radius of forty miles of Chicago's city hall.

Every successful merchant in Chicago uses it, and wouldn't think of not using it. He may go into this or that other medium as subsidiary, but he knows that his daily bread is assured by his daily advertising in THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS.

Remember—The Chicago Market first—and thoroughly. And after that, the widespread Chicago Territory is already well in hand and easily developed to the full.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

CHEAP AT THE PRICE.

We were little surprised when an item appeared that the archeological scholars had learned that the palace that Solomon reared cost more than a billion of dollars. Such a fortune blown in by a monarch today would be, to be sure, past forgiving. But regally lavish was Solomon's sway. And uncurbed by the high cost of living.

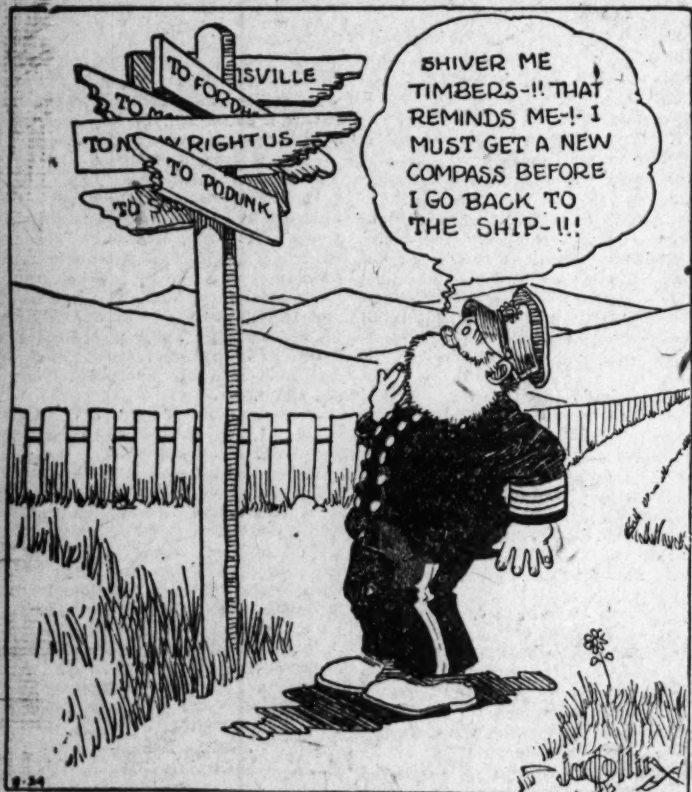

The cost of the palace itself seems but small if one only reflects for a minute. On the price of the food and the dry goods for all of the three hundred wives that were in it. Let's call him a tight-wad, an egg and a brute. For not buying 'em separate houses. He had three hundred bondmaids to furnish to suit the taste of those three hundred spouses.

Their bills for perfumery, powder and gum must have cost the old Emperor yearly (Providing he paid it) as tidy a sum. As the price of the palace, or nearly. And as for their dresses—fine linen and gold—silks, satins and ad infinitum.

Our archeological friends seem amazed that the masonry, woodwork and gilding. On this ancient stone palace that Solomon raised cost more than the world's biggest buildings.
